

Giveaways

At times we offer our customers an opportunity to receive a gift from us. This may be a finished product which Crafty Little Things has made or some materials or tools to use in their own crafting. At times gifts may be voucher codes or gift vouchers for use against Crafty Little Things own items or against selected third party items.

We operate such activity within the Law and with regard for guidance around current UK Gaming and Gambling legislation.

The following constitute the fundamental rules for such activity:

1. Where Stampin' Up! products are to be gifted they will be retired or currently available for general purchase items
2. Where Stampin' Up! products are to be gifted participants will be UK based only
3. Crafty Little Things reserves the right to restrict countries of entry as it wishes
4. There will be no purchase necessary for customers to be considered as potential recipients of the gift
5. There will be no charge levied in respect of customers being considered as potential recipients of the gift
6. In order to be considered as a potential recipient of the gift Crafty Little Things may request that the customer indicates by any chosen means other than making a payment or making a purchase that they wish to be considered as a potential recipient of the gift. This may involve following, liking or sharing on social media, making a specific comment or submitting a photograph of their own craft to one of Crafty Little Things' social media sites
7. Dates and times for the duration of the period when customers may indicate that they wish to be considered as a potential recipient of the gift will be clearly communicated on social media sites
8. The person or persons selected to receive a gift will be chosen at random
9. The person or persons selected to receive a gift will be asked to contact enquiries@craftylittlethingsuk.com with their postal address or in the event of the gift being a voucher code for their email
10. Providing address or email will be required within 7 days of the date of notification of who will receive the gift. Failure to respond within 7 days will result in the opportunity to receive the gift being forfeited and an alternate customer selected.
11. Giveaways are not open to any person who works for or who is related to any person/s employed by Crafty Little Things.